Book p.99 ex.3 (mögliche Lösung)
Today I read about Hannah and her family. I learned that they left Plymouth and took the train to Liverpool. I wonder why they want to start a new life in America. I hope that they don't have to wait too long for their ship. I want to find out what the future will bring for Hannah and her family.

Book p. 100 ex. 4 (mögliche Lösungen)
What does the title „The New World“ mean?
America is the New World. People wanted to start a new life in America, so it was a new world for them.
What was the journey to America like?
They went by ship. It was a long journey and it took at least five weeks. It was uncomfortable because they were in a room under the deck with lots of other people. The food wasn't very good and the water smelled terrible. The ship rolled a lot, so that many people got seasick. It was sometimes stormy and they had to stay under deck. In good weather they went on deck, played music and danced. The ship was full of people from lots of other countries like Poland or Germany.
What was Hannah's new home in New York like?
They shared a house with four other families and just had two small rooms in the attic. Their toilet was in the backyard and it was very hot.

Book p. 100 ex. 5
Hannah is 14 and she is from Plymouth, England. Her journey to New York by ship took about five weeks. In New York she lives in just two rooms in a house with four other families and a toilet in the backyard. Her mother works as a servant and her father as a carpenter. Her older brother Tom joined the army as a soldier and was hurt in a big battle in Gettysburg.

Book p. 102 ex. 8
Independence, Independence Rock, Fort Hall, Sierra Nevada mountains, Sacramento/California

Book p. 103 ex. 9
1. I learned that …/ 2 What surprised me most was ...
They had to walk most of the way (10 or 15 miles a day) because the wagons were full of things/because there was no space in the wagons/the wagons were too heavy.
They needed a wagon, four oxen to pull it and a cow for milk.
The journey west was about 2000 miles long and it took about 5 months.
There were lots of people with about 20 wagons in a wagon train.
There were lots of problems/dangers on the way: accidents, storms, illnesses like cholera or measles, people died ...
There were lots of things people had thrown away because their wagons were too full/too heavy, even a piano. You could see them on the side of the trail.
They used buffalo dung on the fire instead of wood.
Hannah was sad that the journey was nearly over.
Hannah learned to ride a horse like a man, shoot a rabbit and skin it.
3. I think Hannah will stay with her parents and start a new life on the farm will help/work on the farm won't stay with her parents but will move to Sacramento will find/meet Henry in Sacramento will start a new life with Henry

Book p.104 ex. 11
Where did the family live?
The family lived in a nice little house in Grass Valley, California.
What work did they do?
They cut down lots of trees, plowed the land with the oxen, they had their cattle in the field and grew corn. Hannah helped her dad on the ranch and her mother looked after their new twin sisters.
What do you think happened?
Tom became a deputy sheriff in Sacramento. Hannah's sister Rosie died after an accident in the river. Tom met Henry and so he visited Hannah's family. Hannah and Henry got married. They moved to San Francisco and bought a little bakery where they made German bread. Hannah and Henry had a little son, Jonathan.
